

PARAMEDIC

Why become a Paramedic?

Paramedics are highly-trained emergency medical technicians who are qualified to perform a range of medical treatments and life-saving procedures. If you are thinking about a career in healthcare and emergency medicine, and enjoy a fast-paced work environment, you might want to consider a career as a paramedic.

As a paramedic you'll have the opportunity to make a positive impact in someone's life and your community every day. Paramedics provide basic and advanced life support level care, administer medications, and rescue victims from vehicle entrapments or hazardous environments.
